Mr. B. C. DeLashmutt
Principal

Law and order, be thankful we have them here. Too often students feel no respect for either, and so chaos results. When chaos occurs, one can assume that these people have little respect for themselves.

Mass confusion can only occur when the group allows a minority to think for them. We are fortunate that we have enough students doing their own thinking.

Farewell, Mrs. Parsons

As your teaching days draw to a close,
 we join you in thinking of the past and the future.

You gave us so much. We hope that we gave you some fun and happy memories.

We say goodbye with the sorrow of losing you, and with envy of your new life.

From all of your many students, thanks.
